PERMANENT RULES OF THE HOUSE.

Rule I.

Duties and Rights of the Speaker.

1. The Speaker shall take the chair on every legislative day precisely at the hour to which the House shall have adjourned at its last sitting, but if no hour was fixed at such sitting, then at 1 o'clock p. m., and immediately call the members to order and ascertain the presence of a quorum by a roll call of the members of the House.

2. He shall preserve order and decorum, and in case of disturbance or disorderly conduct in the galleries or in the lobby may cause the same to be cleared.

3. He shall have general control, except as provided by law, of the Hall of the House and its lobby and galleries, and the corridors and passages and unappropriated rooms in that part of the Capitol assigned to the use of the House.

4. He shall lay before the House its business in the order indicated by the rules, and shall receive propositions made by members, and put them to the House; and shall enforce the rules of the House and the legislative rules prescribed in the Constitution.

5. He shall rise to put a question, but may state it sitting; and he shall put questions distinctly in this form, to wit: "As many as are in favor (as the question may be) say 'aye,'" and after the affirmative vote is expressed, "As many as are opposed say 'no.'" If the Speaker be in doubt as to the result, or if a division be called for, the House shall divide; those in the affirmative on the question shall rise from their seats and remain standing until the Clerk has numbered (counted) them and the number has been announced by the Speaker; those who vote in the negative are then requested to rise, and they are numbered (counted) and the number announced. The yeas and nays may be called for before the decision of the Speaker is announced.

6. He shall not be required to vote in ordinary legislative proceedings, except where his vote would be decisive, or where the House is engaged in voting by ballot; and in all cases of a tie vote the question shall be lost.

7. He shall decide all question of order, subject to an appeal to the House made by any two members, on which appeal no member shall speak more than once, unless by leave of the House. Pending an appeal, no motion shall be in order except to adjourn, to lay on the table, for the previous question, and the call of the House.

8. He shall examine, correct and approve the journal of each day's proceedings before the same shall be printed.

9. All committees and the chairmen of the same shall be appointed by the Speaker, unless otherwise specially directed by the House, in which case they shall be elected; and if, upon such vote, the number required shall not be elected by a majority of the votes given, the House shall proceed to a second vote, in which a plurality shall prevail; and in case a greater number than that required to compose or complete a committee shall have an equal number of votes, the House shall take another vote.

10. All acts, addresses and joint resolutions shall be signed by the Speaker, as required by the Constitution; and all writs, warrants and subpoenas issued by order of the House shall be under his hand and attested by the Chief Clerk or the Acting Chief Clerk.

11. The Speaker shall have the right to name any member to perform the duties of the chair; provided, however, that if the House is not in session, the Speaker shall deliver a written order to the Chief Clerk naming the member who shall call the House to order and preside during the absence of the Speaker.

12. All employes of the House shall be appointed and selected by the Speaker, and he shall have the right to discharge any of them.

Rule II.

Election and Compensation of Officers.

All officers of the House shall be elected by ballot, and shall receive such compensation as the House may determine, and, after their salary has been fixed, no further or extra compensation whatsoever shall be allowed them. No officer or other employe of the House shall be permitted to receive, directly or indirectly, whether as a gift or otherwise, any compensation from any person whatsoever other than his regular salary from the House.

Rule III.

Duties of the Sergeant-at-Arms.

1. It shall be the duty of the Sergeant-at-Arms to attend the House and the Committee of the Whole during their sittings, and to maintain order under the direction of the Speaker or Chairman, and, pending the election of a Speaker Pro Tempore, under the direction of the Chief Clerk.

2. He shall have charge, under the Speaker, of the Hall of the House, its lobby and galleries, and all other rooms in the Capitol assigned to the use of the House, and shall keep the same in order.

3. He shall execute the commands of the House from time to time, and all writs and process issued by authority thereof, directed to him by the Speaker.

4. He shall procure and keep for the use of the members and officers of the House such stationery and other supplies as may be ordered by the House or Committee on Contingent Expenses, and he shall keep an itemized account of the quantities of every kind received, the date and price paid therefor, and the persons from whom it was received and to whom it was delivered for use, with the date and quantities of each delivery. The unused remainder, if any, he shall deliver at the close of the session to the Secretary of State for safe keeping. He shall keep his office open daily, except Sunday, until one hour after the adjournment of the House, and on Sunday from 9 a. m. to 10 a. m.

5. The Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms, if any, shall assist the Sergeant-at-Arms in the performance of his duties, and, subject to his control and that of the Speaker, shall have the same power.

The Sergeant-at-Arms shall each day report to the Speaker the number of and the time of the receipt of all bills or resolutions from the public printer. By number is meant the serial number and not the number of the copies printed.

Rule IV.

Duties of the Clerks.

1. The Chief Clerk shall have general charge and supervision, under the direction of the Speaker, over the secretarial work of the House, and, pending the election of a Speaker Pro Tempore, he shall call the House to order, preserve order and decorum, and decide all questions of order subject to appeal of the House. He shall attest all writs, warrants and subpoenas issued by order of the House, and shall certify to the passage of bills and joint resolutions, noting at the foot thereof the date of its passage and the vote by which it passed, if by yea and nay vote. In addition to his other duties, the Chief Clerk shall issue all warrants and vouchers of whatever character, and keep an accurate account with all members and employees of the House.

2. The Calendar Clerk shall keep the calendars of the House so as to show the action had on, and present status of, all bills and resolutions, and shall have charge of their printing, when authorized by the rules or by the vote of the House. He shall keep an exact record of the times of delivery to the printer of bills and of the return of the printed bills, and shall see to it that all bills are printed in the order of their delivery to the printer. He shall remain at his desk daily (except Sundays) from 8 a. m. to 12 m. and from 1 to 6 p. m., and from 7:30 p. m. until 9 o'clock p. m., and at such other hours as the House or committees may be in session. He shall also have charge of all petitions, memorials, etc., referred to the committees, and when such matters have been returned, he shall carefully keep the same for preservation in the archives of the Legislature.

3. The Calendar Clerk shall keep a register in a well-bound book in which he will carefully record the order in which all bills and resolutions are delivered to the public printer and the order in which they are returned to the Clerk. This register shall be open to the inspection of the members of the House at all reasonable hours.

4. The Journal Clerk shall keep a journal of the proceedings of the House, in which such proceedings, when not acting in Committee of the Whole, shall be entered as concisely and accurately as possible. In this journal there shall be entered the number and caption of every bill introduced. All simple and concurrent resolutions, motions, committee reports and amendments, and all questions of order, with the decisions thereon, and messages from the Governor and Senate, shall be entered in full.

Every vote of the House shall also be entered on the Journal, with a concise statement of the question and of the result.

The Journal, as made up each day, shall be submitted to the Speaker for his examination, correction and approval, and when approved by him, shall be printed under the supervision of the Journal Clerk and copies thereof laid upon the desk of each member on the succeeding day; but it need not be read unless upon motion therefor by a majority vote.

5. The Engrossing Clerk shall write out, in a fair, legible hand, or with a typewriter, without erasures, interlineations or additions in the margin, all bills and joint resolutions that have passed their second reading and have been ordered to be engrossed. He shall submit his work to the Committee on Engrossed Bills before the same is returned to the House, for their examination, correction and approval, and he shall perform such other clerical work for the House or its committees as he may be assigned to by the Speaker.

6. The Enrolling Clerk shall enroll all House bills, joint resolutions and such House concurrent resolutions as are required to be presented to the Governor, that have passed both Houses, typewriting them, without erasures, interlineations or additions in the margin; and after they have been examined by the Committee on Enrolled Bills and found truly enrolled, they shall be immediately copied in a letter press copy book by the Enrolling Clerk, in the presence of the Committee on Enrolled Bills, and they shall then be reported to the House for the signature of the Speaker and then transmitted to the Senate.

7. The Reading Clerk and his assistant, if any, shall call all rolls of the House in the alphabetical order of the names of the members, and shall read aloud all bills, resolutions, motions and other written matter required by the rules or directed by the Speaker to be read. They shall remain standing while reading or calling the roll. In the event of the absence, resignation or death of the Chief Clerk, the Reading Clerk shall take charge of and attend to all the duties of the office until the Chief Clerk returns or his successor is elected.

8. Any clerk, employe or officer of the House, other than the Speaker, who shall, directly or indirectly, attempt to influence any member of the House in favor of or against any measure pending before the House, or use his official position in aiding anyone lobbying in respect to any measure or question pending before the House, shall be subject to discharge by the House on account of such misconduct. This section shall not apply when such persons are answering questions or giving information at the request of any member of the House; provided, further, that any standing committee of the House, by a majority vote of the members present, may grant any clerk, officer or employe the right to appear before such committee and make known his views on any measure pending before such committee.

9. All clerks and stenographers shall report daily, except Sundays, from 8 a. m. to 12 m. and from 1:30 to 6 p. m., and at such other hours as the House or the committees to which they have been assigned may be in session, or as they may be directed by the Speaker. A daily record of the arrivals and departures of clerks and stenographers shall be kept by the Chief Clerk.

Rule V.

Duties of the Doorkeeper.

The doorkeeper shall enforce strictly the rules relating to the privileges of the Hall, and when the House is under call, shall permit no member to leave the Hall without written permission from the Speaker. Five minutes before the hour of the meeting of the House each day he shall see that the floor is cleared of all persons except those privileged to remain.

Rule VI.

Duties of the Chaplain.

The Chaplain shall attend the commencement of each day's sitting of the House and open the same with prayer.

Rule VII.

Of Committees.

Unless otherwise ordered by the House, the Speaker shall appoint the following committees, consisting of the number designated, and all proposed legislation shall be referred by the Speaker, subject to correction of such reference by a majority vote of the House, to the appropriate committee named in this rule:

1. The Committee on Rules, consisting of five members, shall have jurisdiction over the Rules of the House, the Joint Rules and all amendments proposed to either, and shall be specially charged with the duty of assisting in expediting the business of the House.

2. Judiciary, twenty-five members, with jurisdiction over all matters of civil law, rights, duties, remedies and procedure not assigned to other committees.

3. Criminal Jurisprudence, nineteen members, with jurisdiction over all matters of criminal law not assigned to other committees.

47. Juvenile Reform, to be composed of thirteen members, which shall have jurisdiction over all laws governing juveniles and the establishment and conduct of reformatories and training schools for juveniles.

No addition shall be made to any committee after it has been formed, except upon suggestion of the Speaker and by a majority of the House.

Rule VIII.

Organization, Powers and Duties of Committees.

1. As soon as practicable after their appointment, it shall be the duty of the chairman pro tem. (towit, the first named member after the chairman) of the different committees to notify the Speaker, in writing, of the time fixed for the meeting of their respective committees, which information the Speaker shall cause to be posted in a conspicuous place in the Hall as soon as practicable.

2. If, after due notification, the members of any committee, fail to meet at the time and place designated, and it shall be evidenced that such absentees are wilfully absent for the purpose of impeding the action of the committee, the chairman shall report such matter to the House, and such committeemen shall be subject to reprimand, or removal from such committee, as a majority of the members present shall decide.

3. No committees shall sit during the time the House is in session without special leave first being granted.

4. A majority of a committee shall constitute a quorum for business, and no report shall be made to the House unless ordered by a majority of such quorum in committee assembled. All committee reports shall be in writing and in two parts: (1) The formal report, which shall be inserted in the Journal, must be signed by the chairman or chairman pro tem., and addressed to the Speaker, and shall contain a brief statement that the measure, described by number only, has been under consideration by the committee, at a session thereof; that the committee has recommended that it do or do not pass, or be adopted, or pass or be adopted with amendments, as the case may be, and that a member of the committee, naming him, has been authorized to make a full report thereon to the House; and (2) the full report, signed by the member so authorized, which shall be printed with the measure reported, or if that be not printed, shall be inserted in the Journal, and which shall contain a brief statement of the nature of the measure, the change it makes in existing law, the object of such change, the reasons for it, and, if desired, the reasons advanced against it and a reply to such reasons, and the amendments recommended by the committee to the measure, if any, with a similar brief statement in relation to these amendments. The views of the minority may be submitted in writing by any member of the committee, and shall be printed with the full report of the committee.

5. Bills, resolutions and other papers referred to committees shall be taken up and acted upon by the committees in the order in which they were referred and shall be reported back to the House within six days from the date of their respective reference. If any committee shall fail or refuse to report the bill, resolution or other paper referred to it within six days, a motion shall be in order to give the committee additional time, which motion must receive a two-thirds vote of the House before it shall be carried. If a bill is not reported, and the time is not granted as herein set forth, the Speaker shall instruct the committee that the House desires an immediate report upon the bill or measure pending, and it shall be the duty of the committee to immediately consider and report the bill back to the House.

6. The reports of standing and select committee shall be filed with the Chief Clerk and printed in the Journal.

7. It shall be the duty of the chairmen of the several committees to see that the originals of all bills, resolutions, memorials and such other documents referred to them are returned to the House, with the final report upon the matter to which they pertain.

8. The Committee on Engrossed Bills, in addition to their duties as such, are also the Committee on Style, and it shall be their duty to see that all bills passed by the House are correct in style, orthography, punctuation and in whatever else it is within the province of the committee to correct.

9. It shall be in order for the Committee on Engrossed Bills, Enrolled Bills and the Committee on Rules to report at any time.

10. Reports of committees are advisory only. When the report is made, the proposition, bill or resolution recommended or reported back shall be before the House for its consideration without action upon the report.

11. No floor report shall be made by any committee except on road bills and school district bills; provided, however, that if any citizens of those districts desire to be heard before the committee, and the bill is brought out on a floor report, it shall be recommitted by order of the Speaker upon receiving proper notification in writing of their desire to be heard by any citizens of the district affected.

12. The Rules governing the proceedings of the House shall apply to the proceedings in the committees in so far as same are applicable.

Rule IX.

Questions of Privilege.

Questions of privilege shall be: First, those affecting the rights of the House collectively, its safety, dignity and the integrity of its proceedings; second, the rights, reputation and conduct of members individually in their representative capacity only, and shall have precedence of all other questions, except motions to adjourn. When in order, a member may address himself to a question of privilege from his seat, or at any time he may print it in the Journal, provided it contains no reflection upon any member of the House.

Rule X.

Decorum and Debate.

1. When any member desires to speak or deliver any matter to the House, he shall rise and respectfully address himself to "Mr. Speaker," and, on being recognized, may address the House from any place on the floor or from the Clerk's desk, and shall confine himself to the question under debate, avoiding personalities.

2. When two or more members happen to rise at once, the Speaker shall name the one who is first to speak, and his decision shall be final and not open to debate or appeal.

3. The mover of any proposition, or the member reporting any measure from a committee, as the case may be, or, in case of the absence of either of them, then any other member designated by such absentee, shall have the right of opening and closing debate thereon, and for this purpose may speak each time not to exceed twenty minutes.

4. No member shall speak more than twice on the same question, without leave of the House, nor more than once until every member choosing to speak shall have spoken; nor shall any member be permitted to consume the time of another member without the consent of the House.

5. If a pending question is not disposed of, owing to an adjournment of the House, no member who has spoken twice on the subject shall be allowed to speak again without leave.

6. All speeches shall be limited to ten minutes in duration except as provided in Section 3 of this rule, and the Speaker shall call the members to order at the expiration of their time; provided, however, that in case the House by a vote extends the time of any member, such time shall not be extended exceeding ten minutes additional without the unanimous consent of the House. Provided, this rule shall not apply to measures carrying an appropriation, in the discussion of which speeches shall be limited to fifteen minutes in duration except as provided in Section 3 of this rule.

7. If any member, in speaking or otherwise, transgresses the rules of the House, the Speaker shall, or any member may, call him to order; in which case the member so called to order shall immediately sit down, unless permitted to explain; and the House shall, if appealed to, decide on the case, but without debate. If the decision be in favor of the member called to order, he shall be at liberty to proceed; if the decision be against him, and the case requires it, he shall be liable to the censure of the House, or such other punishment as the House may deem proper.

8. While the Speaker is putting a question or addressing the House, no member shall walk out of or across the Hall, nor, when a member is speaking, pass between him and the chair; and during the session of the House no member shall wear his hat nor smoke upon the floor of the House.

9. When the reading of a paper is called for, and the same is objected to by any member, the House shall determine whether or not said paper shall be read.

Rule XI.

Of Voting.

1. Any member who has a personal or private interest in any measure or bill proposed or pending before the House, shall disclose the fact, and shall not vote thereon.

2. No member shall be permitted to vote in any case, whether upon division or roll call, when he was not within the bar of the House when the question was put; and if his vote be challenged on that ground, or if he ask leave to vote, the Speaker shall ask him whether he was within the bar of the House when the question was put; and if he answer in the affirmative, he shall be permitted to vote.

3. In order to be entitled to vote, and to be within the bar of the House, a member must be on the floor of the Hall and within the walls enclosing the same, and not outside of any of the doors leading out of the Hall and he must vote from his seat.

4. Every member who is in the House when the question is put shall give his vote, unless the House, for reasons assigned, shall excuse him; and any member who is present and shall fail or refuse to vote, after being requested to do so by the Speaker, shall be recorded as present but not voting, and shall be counted for the purpose of making a quorum.

5. No member shall be allowed to make any explanation of a vote he is about to give, or ask to be excused from voting, after the Clerk, under order of the House, shall have commenced calling the yeas and nays.

6. The yeas and nays of the members of the House on any question shall, at the desire of any three members present, be called and entered on the Journal.

7. While the yeas and nays are being called, or votes are being counted, no member shall visit the Clerk's table or leave his seat.

8. On demand of any member, before the question is put, the question shall be divided, if it includes propositions so distinct in substance that, one being taken away, a substantive proposition remains.

9. All pairs must be announced when the roll is called, and a written statement thereof sent to the Clerk. Such pairs shall be entered on the Journal, and the member present shall be counted to make a quorum.

Rule XII.

Of Motions.

1. Every motion made to the House and entertained by the Speaker shall be reduced to writing on the demand of any member, and shall be entered on the Journal, with the name of the member making it, unless it is withdrawn the same day.

2. When a motion has been made the Speaker shall state it, or (if it be in writing), cause it to be read aloud by the clerk before being debated, and it shall then be in possession of the House, but may be withdrawn at any time before a decision or amendment.

3. When a question is under debate no motion shall be received but—

(1) To fix the day on which the House shall adjourn.

(2) To adjourn.

(3) To take recess.

(4) To lay on the table.

(5) For the previous question.

(6) To postpone to a day certain.

(7) To commit.

(8) To amend.

(9) To postpone indefinitely.

Which said motions shall have precedence in the above order. A motion to strike out the enacting words of a bill shall have precedence of a motion to amend, and, if carried, be considered as equivalent to the rejection of the bill.

4. A motion to adjourn, except as hereinafter provided in Rule XIII, Section 6, and a motion to fix the day to which the House shall adjourn, shall always be in order.

5. When motions are made for the reference of a subject to a select or standing committee, the question for the reference to a standing committee shall be put first.

6. No motion to postpone to a day certain, to commit or to postpone indefinitely, being decided, shall be again allowed on the same day at the same stage of the bill or proposition.

7. The motion to lay upon the table, if carried, shall have the effect of killing the bill, resolution, amendment or other immediate proposition tabled. It shall not be debatable, but the mover of the proposition proposed to be tabled, or the member reporting it from a committee shall be allowed to close the debate thereon after the motion to table is made and before it is put. The vote by which the motion to table is carried or lost cannot be reconsidered.

8. A bill or proposition postponed to a day certain shall be laid before the House at the time to which it was postponed, unless other business be then pending, in which case its consideration shall be deferred until the pending business is disposed of, without other prejudice to its right or priority.

9. The following motions shall be decided without debate:

- (1) To adjourn.
- (2) To fix the day to which the House shall adjourn.
- (3) To lay on the table.
- (4) That a proposition lie upon the table subject to call.
- (5) For the previous question.
- (6) To suspend the regular order of business and take up some measure out of its order.
- (7) To suspend the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days.

Rule XIII.

Of the Previous Question.

1. There shall be a motion for the previous question, which shall be admitted only when seconded by twenty-five (25) members. It shall be put by the Chair in this manner: "The motion has been seconded. As many as are in favor of ordering the previous question on (here state on what question or questions) will say 'yea,' and then, 'As many as are opposed say 'nay.' If ordered by a majority of the members voting, a quorum being present, it shall have the effect of cutting off all debate and bringing the House to a direct vote upon the immediate question or questions upon which it has been asked and ordered.

2. The previous question may be asked and ordered upon any debatable single motion, or series of motions allowable under the rules, or an amendment or amendments, or may be made to embrace all authorized debatable motions or amendments, and include the bill or resolution to its passage or rejection. It may be applied to motions to postpone to a day certain, or indefinitely, or to commit, and cannot be laid upon the table.

3. On the motion for the previous question, there shall be no debate; and all incidental questions of order after it is made, and pending such motion, shall be decided, whether on appeal or otherwise, without debate.

4. After the previous question has been ordered there shall be no debate upon the questions on which it has been ordered, or upon incidental questions, except only that the mover of the proposition, or the member making the report from the committee, as the case may be, or, in the case of the absence of either of them, any other member designated by such absentee, shall have the right to close the debate, after which a vote shall be immediately taken on the amendments, if any there were, and then on the main question.

5. When the previous question is ordered upon a motion to postpone indefinitely, or to amend by striking out the enacting clause of a bill, the mover of a proposition or bill proposed to be so postponed or amended, or the member reporting the same from a committee, shall have the right to close the debate on the original proposition, after which the member moving to postpone or amend shall be allowed to close the debate on his motion or amendment.

6. No motion for an adjournment or recess shall be in order, after the previous question is seconded, until the final vote upon the main question shall be taken, unless the roll call shows the absence of a quorum.

7. A call of the House may be moved after the previous question has been ordered.

Rule XIV.

Of Reconsideration.

1. When a motion has been made and carried, or lost, or an amendment, resolution or bill voted upon, it shall be in order for any member of the prevailing side to move for a reconsideration thereof, on the same day or the next sitting day, before the order of the day is taken up.

2. If such motion for a reconsideration be not disposed of when made, it shall be spread upon the Journal, and cannot, after that legislative day, be called upon and disposed of unless one day's notice shall be given. But all such motions made during the last three days of the session shall be disposed of when made.

3. When a motion for a reconsideration has once been made, it cannot be withdrawn, but may be called up by any member.

4. Unless sooner called up and disposed of, all motions for the reconsideration of votes upon amendments or other incidental matters shall be regarded as determined and lost upon the final vote upon the main question.

Rule XV.

Of Roll Calls and Calls of the House.

1. Upon every roll call the names of the members shall be called alphabetically by surname, except when two or more have the same surname, in which case the name of the county shall be added.

2. It shall be in order to move a call of the House at any time for the purpose of maintaining a quorum for the consideration of a specific bill, resolution or other measure. When a call of the House is moved and seconded by fifteen members (of whom the Speaker may be one), the Doorkeeper shall close the main entrance of the Hall, and all other doors leading out of the Hall shall be locked and no member be permitted to leave the House without written permission of the Speaker, until after the subject matter upon which the call was ordered has been disposed of. The Clerk shall call the roll of members and note the absentees; and those for whom no sufficient excuse is made may, by order of the majority of those present, be sent for and arrested, wherever they may be found, by the Sergeant-at-Arms, or officer appointed by him for that purpose, and their attendance secured and retained, and the House shall determine upon what condition they shall be discharged. Members who voluntarily appear shall, unless the House otherwise directs, be immediately admitted to the Hall of the House, and they shall report their names to the Clerk to be entered upon the Journal as present. Until a quorum appears, should the roll call fail to show one present, no business shall be done except to compel the attendance of absent members or to adjourn.

Whenever a quorum is shown to be present the House may proceed with the matters on which the call was ordered, or may enforce and await the attendance of the absentees.

Rule XVI.

Of Simple and Concurrent Resolutions.

1. When resolutions are called for, the member offering a resolution shall rise in his place and say: "Mr. Speaker, I offer the following resolution." The Speaker shall then say: "The gentleman from offers the following resolution. The resolution will be read." As soon as the Clerk shall have read the same the Speaker shall say: "What order will the House take on the resolution?" If the second reading of the resolution is called for, the Speaker shall say: "Second reading of the resolution is called for. If there be no objection, the resolution will be read a second time." If objection be made to the second reading, it shall be in order for any member to move for the second reading, and if the motion be carried the resolution shall be read again, and it will then be before the House for amendment, adoption or rejection, or other action. If the second reading is not moved, the resolution shall lie over until the following day, when it will come up as business on the Speaker's table.

2. Concurrent resolutions shall take the same course as simple resolutions, and shall be numbered in regular order.

3. Resolutions may be filed with the Chief Clerk after the opening of the session of the House, and when resolutions are called for all resolutions so filed shall be taken up in the order filed and disposed of before the Speaker shall permit members to offer resolutions from the floor of the House.

Rule XVII.

Joint Resolutions.

All amendments proposed to the Constitution shall take the form of a joint resolution, which shall be subject to the rules which govern the proceedings in bills, except that it shall be adopted on any reading after the first when it receives a two-thirds vote of the members-elect to the House. (Constitution, Article XVII, Section 1.) When a proposed amendment to the Constitution is under consideration, the vote of a majority of the members present shall be sufficient to decide an amendment thereto, or any collateral or incidental questions thereto short of the final question.

Rule XVIII.

Of Bills.

1. Proposed laws or changes in laws must be incorporated in bills, which shall consist of a title or caption, beginning with the words, "A bill to be entitled An Act to," and containing a brief statement of the object of the proposed measure, and of the bill proper, beginning with the enacting clause. "Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas," and stating at large the measure proposed; and if the bill proposes to amend an existing law, it shall be accompanied by a brief statement of the proposed change in the existing law.

2. No bill (except general appropriation bills, which may embrace the various subjects and accounts for and on account of which moneys are appropriated) shall contain more than one subject, which shall be expressed in its title.

3. No law shall be revived or amended by reference to its title, but in such case the act revived or the section or sections amended shall be re-enacted and published at length.

4. Bills shall be introduced in the same manner as resolutions, and with the same order of precedence. Each bill shall be numbered in its regular order; and when bills are called for by the Speaker, first those filed with the Chief Clerk and then those introduced from the floor shall be read first time by caption and referred to the proper committee.

5. No bill shall be considered or tabled unless it has been first referred to a committee and reported therefrom, and no bill shall be passed which has not been presented and referred to and reported from a committee at least three days before the final adjournment of the Legislature. The Speaker shall not be authorized, nor shall he recognize any one to take up a bill out of its regular order within forty-eight hours next preceding final adjournment, nor shall he lay any bill before the House for a vote upon any passage during said time, and no vote shall be taken upon any bill except to correct an error therein, or to adopt a conference report.

6. All bills before the House on their final and second readings, respectively, shall be taken up and acted upon in the order in which they are numbered; provided, that Tuesday of each week shall be devoted to the consideration of House bills on their third readings until disposed of.

But when any House bill shall be reached upon the calendar or shall be before the House for consideration, it shall be the duty of the Speaker to give the place of such House bill on the calendar to any Senate bill which has been referred to and reported from a committee of the House, containing the same subject, or to lay such Senate bill before the House to be considered in lieu of such House bill.

On Wednesday and Thursday of each week only Senate bills, on their third and second readings, respectively, shall be taken up and considered until disposed of, and in case one should be pending at adjournment, it shall go over to the succeeding day (Friday), as the unfinished business.

Local bills shall only be in order after 4:30 p. m. each Wednesday and each Thursday; provided, that it shall not be in order to suspend the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days in the consideration of any local bill. By local bill is meant any measure affecting only one county, city or representative district, other than the establishment of new courts. Provided, that no general appropriation bill for the fiscal years ending August 31, 1916, and August 31, 1917, shall be in order during the first sixty days of this session, and that any provision in any rule contrary to this proviso is hereby repealed.

7. All bills, when reported favorably by a committee, shall be printed and a copy laid on the desk of each member before the bill is acted on by the House. All other bills, resolutions, reports, memorials and petitions shall be printed on the order of the House.

8. After a bill has been taken up and read, amendments thereto shall be in order, those recommended by the committee or its minority being first considered, if called up. If no amendment is made, or if those proposed are adopted, then the final question upon its second reading shall be, in the case of a House bill, whether it shall be engrossed, or, in the case of a Senate bill, whether it shall pass to its third reading; and all bills ordered engrossed or passed to a third reading shall go on the calendar in their regular course.

9. No bill shall have the force of law until it has been read on three several days in each house, and free discussion allowed thereon; but in case of imperative public necessity (which necessity shall be stated in the preamble or in the body of the bill), four-fifths of the House may suspend this rule, the yeas and nays being taken on the question of suspension and entered upon the Journal. By four-fifths of the House is here meant four-fifths of the members of those voting, a quorum being present; provided, that within the meaning of this rule "an imperative public necessity" shall be held to mean only such condition or state of affairs which, if not immediately remedied, will cause great loss of life or of property; and the Speaker shall not entertain a motion to suspend the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days unless it shall affirmatively appear that such a condition or state of affairs does actually exist.

10. When a bill has been taken up on its third reading, amendments thereto shall be in order, but shall require a two-thirds vote of the members present for their adoption, or the bill may be committed and reported to the House with amendments, in which case it shall take the course of a bill at its second reading, unless the amendments were made in the Committee of the Whole, in which case the House shall immediately proceed to act on the bill; but when a bill has been committed once at any reading, it shall not be in order to recommit it again more than once, unless for some special amendment proposed, and then only by consent of two-thirds present. After all amendments have been disposed of, the question shall be upon the final passage of the bill.

11. When a bill shall pass, it shall be certified by the Chief Clerk, noting the day of its passage at the foot thereof, and the vote by which it passed, if by a yea and nay vote.

12. No law passed by the Legislature, except the general appropriation act, shall take effect or go into force until ninety days after the adjournment of the session at which it was enacted, unless in case of an emergency, which emergency must be expressed in a preamble or in the body of the act, the Legislature shall, by a vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to each house, otherwise direct; said vote to be taken by yeas and nays, and entered upon the Journals.

13. After a bill has been considered and defeated by either house of the Legislature, no bill containing the same substance shall be passed into a law during the same session. After a resolution has been acted on and defeated, no resolution containing the same substance shall be considered at the same session.

14. No motion shall be in order to suspend the reading in full of a bill on second reading if demanded by any member.

Rule XIX.

Of Amendments.

1. When a bill, resolution, motion or proposition is under consideration a motion to amend and a motion to amend that amendment shall be in order to offer a further amendment by the way of substitute.

2. A motion to strike out and insert new matter in lieu of that to be stricken out shall be regarded as a substitute and shall be indivisible.

3. Amendments to the caption of a bill or resolution shall not be in order until all other proposed amendments shall have been acted upon and the House be ready to vote upon the passing of the measure; and the same shall be decided without debate.

4. No motion or proposition on a subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted under color of amendment, or as a substitute for the motion or proposition under debate.

Rule XX.

Of Committees of the Whole House.

1. No appropriation of money shall be made except by bill, and when a bill appropriating money shall be reached or taken up, it shall be in order to move that the House resolve itself into the Committee of the Whole House for the purpose of considering such bill.

2. In forming a Committee of the Whole House the Speaker shall leave his chair, and a chairman to preside in committee shall be appointed by the Speaker.

3. Upon bills committed to a Committee of the Whole House, the bill shall first be read throughout by the Clerk, and then again be read and debated by clauses, leaving the preamble to be last considered. The body of the bill shall not be defaced or interlined, but all amendments, noting the page or line, shall be duly entered by the Clerk on a separate paper, as the same shall be agreed to by the committee, and so reported to the House. After report, the bill shall again be subject to be debated and amended by clauses before a vote be taken on the question of engrossment.

4. All amendments made to an original motion in Committee of the Whole shall be incorporated with the motion and so reported.

5. In the event that the Committee of the Whole, at any sitting, shall, for want of time, fail to complete the amendments proposed on any bill or resolution under their consideration, or desire to postpone the consideration thereof, it may, on motion made at any time in the meantime, rise, report progress and ask leave to sit again generally, or at a day certain.

6. All amendments made to a report committed to the Committee of the Whole House shall be noted and reported, as in the case of bills.

7. No motion or proposition for a tax or charge upon the people shall be discussed the day on which it was made or offered.

8. No sum or quantum of tax or duty voted by a Committee of the Whole House shall be increased in the House until the motion or proposition for such increase shall first be discussed and voted in a Committee of the Whole House and so in respect to the time of its continuance.

9. All proceedings touching appropriations of money shall be discussed in the Committee of the Whole House.

10. The rules of proceeding in the House shall be observed in Committee of the Whole House so far as they may be applicable.

Rule XXI.

Of the Order of Business.

1. The daily order of business shall be as follows:

First—Prayer by the Chaplain.

Second—Excuses for absence of members and officers.

Third—First reading of bills filed with the Chief Clerk, and introduction of bills from the floor and their first reading, and reference of bills to committees.

Fourth—Request to print bills and other papers; requests of committees for further time to consider papers referred to them and all other routine motions and business not otherwise provided for, all of which shall be made undebatable; but the mover may be allowed to state briefly the nature and purpose of the measure.

Fifth—Resolutions filed with the Chief Clerk, and resolutions offered from the floor, for twenty minutes, if not sooner disposed of.

Sixth—The unfinished business, to be considered until finally disposed of.

Seventh—Disposal of business on the Speaker's table as follows:

(1) Resolutions lying over from the previous day, and Senate concurrent resolutions.

(2) Reports of conference committees.

(3) Senate amendments to House bills and resolutions, requests of the Senate for a conference and all matters of disagreement, amendments and requests between the two houses.

(4) Reports of standing and special committees.

(5) Bills on their third reading.

(6) Bills on their second reading.

18-H

2. Special orders, after the first five items under the daily order of business have been passed, shall have precedence when the hour for considering the same has arrived, except as provided in Rule XVIII, Section 6, which provides that Senate bills, on Senate bill days, shall have precedence of House bills set as special orders on those days.

3. All questions relating to the priority of business shall be decided by a majority, without debate.

Rule XXII.

Suspension of the Rules and Order of Business and Special Orders.

1. No standing rule or order of the House shall be suspended except by an affirmative vote of two-thirds of the members present; nor shall any other business be considered on days devoted by these rules to and used in consideration of Senate and local bills, except by unanimous consent.

2. All Democratic platform demands shall have precedence in accordance with their number over all other bills on all days except suspension days, Senate bill days, and local bill afternoons; only demands which refer to certain and definite legislation shall be construed as platform demands, and where any plank or demand of the Democratic platform is in general terms, and does not specify the character of legislation demanded, no bill on any such subject shall be deemed a platform demand.

3. The Speaker shall not entertain a motion to suspend the order of business established by the rules for the purpose of taking up and considering any bill, resolution or other measure out of its regular order except on Monday of each week, and during the first four days of the last six days of the session; provided, however, that in said last four suspension days it shall require a two-thirds vote to suspend the regular order and take up any measure. When a request is made to suspend the order of business for taking up any certain bill, the Speaker shall ask if there is any objection. If there is no objection, the bill shall be immediately placed before the House for consideration. If there is objection, the Speaker shall, without debate, after the caption of the bill has been read, put the motion to the House and, if carried by a majority vote, the regular order of business shall be considered suspended for the purpose of taking up and considering said bill, resolution or other measure; provided, that no member shall be entitled to have more than one bill, resolution or other measure taken up out of its regular order until every other member has had an opportunity to call some bill or measure. Any measure so taken up under suspension and not disposed of on the same day shall go over as the unfinished business to the next sitting day of the House, and thereafter from day to day (except days devoted to and used in the consideration of Senate bills) until disposed of, but a motion to suspend left pending and undisposed of on one suspension day goes over to the next suspension day as the pending business of that day.

4. Any bill, resolution or other measure may on any day be made a special order for a future day of the session by an affirmative vote of two-thirds of the members present, and, when once established as a special order, shall be considered from day to day until disposed of, and until it shall have been disposed of no further special order shall be made.

Rule XXIII.

Of Communications from the Executive and Senate, Conference Reports, Etc.

1. Messages and communications from the Governor shall be received when announced, and at once referred to the appropriate committee without debate.

2. All messages from the Senate shall be received when announced; Senate bills announced as passed shall at once be read and referred to their appropriate committees, and Senate concurrent resolutions shall go to the Speaker's table.

3. Messages from the Senate announcing amendments to House bills and resolutions, non-concurrence in House amendments to Senate bills and resolutions, and requests for conferences, as also all reports of conference committees and all matters of disagreement, amendments and requests, between the two houses, shall go to the Speaker's table in their regular order, but they may be called up for action of the House at any time, except as against a motion to adjourn, or to fix the day to which the House shall adjourn.

Rule XXIV.

Of Petitions and Memorials.

All petitions and memorials shall be filed with the Chief Clerk and referred to committees in accordance with the endorsement of the member offering the same.

Rule XXV.

Of Absentees.

1. No member shall absent himself from the sittings of the House without leave, unless in case of sickness. Should any member absent himself without leave for the purpose of impeding the action of the House, such member may be expelled; provided, that before action is taken hereunder the matter shall be referred to the Committee on Privileges, Suffrage and Elections for investigation and report. It shall require a two-thirds vote of the members present to excuse absentees, and no member shall be excused upon his own motion.

2. The names of absentees shall appear upon the Journal.

Rule XXVI.

Of Witnesses.

The rule for paying witnesses summoned to appear before the House, or any of its committees, shall be as follows: For each day a witness shall attend, the sum of $2.00, and for coming to or going from the place of examination he shall receive actual and necessary expenses, and $2.00 for each day which is necessarily consumed in going to and returning from said place of examination; but nothing shall be paid for traveling home when the witness was at the place of trial when summoned. The certificate of the chairman of the committee before which a witness is summoned, of the amount due such witness, shall be sufficient authority for the same to be paid.

Rule XXVII.

Of Admission to the House.

1. The persons hereinafter named, and none other, shall be admitted to the Hall of the House when the House is in session, viz: The members and employes of the House; Senators and employes of the Senate; the Governor and his private secretary; the Lieutenant Governor; the President and Vice President of the United States; United States Senators and members of Congress; Governors of other States; judges of the Supreme Court and Courts of Criminal and Civil Appeals; the heads of all State departments, and contestants in election cases, pending their contests in the House.

2. Reporters of newspapers shall be assigned appropriate and convenient seats in the House by direction of the Speaker.

3. Provided, that no newspaper reporter, or any person whomsoever, whether a State officer or not, except the Governor, who is lobbying or working for or against any pending or prospective legislative measure, shall, in any event, be permitted upon the floor of the House, or the rooms leading thereto, when the House is in session; nor shall any newspaper reporter or correspondent, whose salary or compensation is paid in whole or in part by any person, firm, corporation or association other than the paper or papers for which he reports, or represents, be admitted into the Hall or the rooms leading thereto when the House is in session. And any person who has appeared before any committee for or against any measure pending or that has been before this House shall come within this rule.

4. Every newspaper reporter and correspondent, before being admitted to the House during its session, shall file with the Speaker a written statement showing the paper or papers which he represents, and certifying that no part of his salary or compensation is paid by any person, firm, corporation or association except the paper or papers which he represents.

5. It shall not be in order for the Speaker to entertain a request, motion or resolution for the suspension of this rule, or to present from the chair the request of any member for unanimous consent.

6. It shall be the duty of the Sergeant-at-Arms and his assistant to clear the Hall of all persons not entitled to the privilege thereof five minutes before the hour of the meeting.

7. Provided, that this rule shall not be construed to prevent any citizen from appearing before any of the committees of the House when in session. And provided further, that this rule shall not apply during the inauguration of the Governor, and other public ceremonies provided for by resolution of the House. And it is further provided that no motion shall be in order to invite any person to address this House while it is in session, except those entitled to the privileges of the floor as defined by Section 1 of this rule.

8. Solicitors and collectors shall not be admitted to the House during its sessions.

Rule XXVIII.

Amendments to the Rules.

No standing rule or order of the House shall be rescinded or changed except by an affirmative vote of two-thirds of the members present. All propositions to rescind any rule or order shall be by resolution, to be at once referred, without debate, to the Committee on Rules, and reported therefrom within three days.

Rule XXIX.

When Rules are Silent.

On any question of order or parliamentary practice where these rules are silent or inexplicit, Jefferson's Manual and the Digest of the Rules and Practice of the United States House of Representatives shall be considered as authority.
